Old Documents.

OSBORNE HOUSE, KY., Feb. 14, 1801.
In looking over some old letters recently I came across one that I am tempted to give you verbatim. As I know the descendants of the writer, now several hundred, possibly a thousand, and who have scattered out of old Green county. Many are in the counties of Adair, Taylor, Hart, Lenoir, Washington, Boyle and Jefferson. In this State. Others are in Illinois, Kansas, Iowa, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Missouri and Texas.

CHICKEN COUNTRY, Va., Oct. 15, 1814.
"I have just received a letter from you, and I am in tolerable state of health at present, thanks be to God for his mercies to me. Hoping these few lines will find you and yours in the same. I received your letter dated Sept. 18, 1814. I got a fall from a horse which hurts me a great deal, but I have not a good deal better. I have my health in a common way very well. I wish you to write to me how many children you have and each of your sisters have. John Walker and his family are going to the Ohio. He expects to start the 29th of this month, and Sally Walker is very weak for a long time past. Robert Montgomery's family is all well at present. I would wish you to write to me often than you have for some time in the past, for I never expect to see any of you again, but I wish to hear from you as often as possible. I would wish you to inform my son Thomas that I would wish him to write to me a little often than he has done, for he has not written to me for some time past, and I am in good health and all my friends are in good health.

I shall add no more at present, but I remain your loving mother until death.
CATHERINE CRAWFORD,
To Thomas and Rachel Mitchell.
The sheet is a little larger than foolscap and very strong, and when held up to the light shows full of lines close together. In the centre can be seen the water mark, a cross and anchor. The last page is blank. The paper is folded so that the blank page is used as an envelope and contains the following address: "To Mr. Thomas Mitchell Green County, Kentucky."
There was neither stamp nor envelope. Query, did they have rural free delivery in that day?

I also found a receipt dated Oct. 5, 1814, as follows: "Received of Mr. Alex. Johnson five dollars for surveying for Thomas Mitchell." This evidently was the time when Thomas Mitchell came to the old homestead near Camp Kent, Green county. He and his brother-in-law Thomas Crawford (now dead) in above letter divided 1,000 acres between them which included the land south of Caney Fork, commenced at Hacksville and extended to Dr. Becker's on both sides of the "Columbia River" and over to Blue Spring Branch, including "Mother Church." Now this Father's Alexander Harris, another brother-in-law, settled where Mr. Lindsey now lives. This family came to Ohio in 1830. From papers found I judge it was called Freeman Land, and sold to John Ingram for $100. Columbia Spectator and Adair County News copy correct. M.

To Trustees.

Be careful in taking the school census of your district. Carefully read the instructions on the blanks. Remember the census is not to be taken before April, but during the month of April and returned to the County Superintendent not later than May 10th. Children who will be twenty before July 1st are not to be reported and children who will be less before July 1st must be placed on the list. Trustees should be qualified. Remember your duties are not legal until you have the oath of office. School orders will not be received hereafter for a less amount than five dollars.

The Republicans and Tariff Reform.

There are indications that there may be an interesting fight in the new Congress on the question of materially revising the Dingley tariff. It will be remembered that during the latter part of the recent session of Congress Representative Babcock introduced a bill amending the duties on certain manufactures of iron and steel controlled by the trust and there were other propositions to change the Dingley law—ostensibly by the abolition of its provision for countervailing duties. It was generally assumed at the time that Mr. Babcock's bill was a mere bluff and that nothing more would be heard of it with the expiration of the Fifty-sixth Congress. Mr. Babcock now comes forward, however, and assures the country that this was a mistake assumption. He was, he declares, honest in the introduction of his bill. But he does not stop here. He will prove his sincerity by reintroducing the bill in the new Congress, and he will supplement that with bills for the abolition of the duties on plate glass and tin plate.

Mr. Babcock adds, however, that the day when coming the Courier-Journal has long predicted is that day when the tariff beneficiaries themselves will be the strongest element demanding tariff reform. He says, reports the Chicago Chronicle, that "many of the beneficiaries of the tariff, especially such of them as have been successful in selling their products abroad in open competition against the world, are willing to surrender the advantage they are supposed to enjoy under the Dingley tariff. And he specifies the producers of lumber, farm machinery and railroad and structural iron and steel." He adds that tariff reform legislation will express such of the members of Congress at its next session and that the changes which will be made in the present law will probably be more radical than the most ardent free trader could hope for.

There will, perhaps, be a disposition in many quarters to doubt that such radical changes in the tariff can be effected at the next session. Most people are not yet ready to believe that anything like real tariff reform can come through the Republican party, and they would not hesitate to say that if Mr. Babcock shall press the measures they will be stubbornly and effectually resisted in his party.

Still, stranger things have happened than the radical revision by the Republicans of the Dingley tariff in the direction of real reform. The Republican party has not always been a party of high principle. One of the secrets of its success has been in party, and even forebearance, the trend of public sentiment and trimming its sails accordingly. The party that less than six years ago was admitted to the monetary sea, yet so quickly found its bearings and set its course when the first signs of the storm of 1896 appeared, is capable of any reversal on the tariff.

Mr. Babcock was a member of the last Ways and Means Committee and is a member of the Republican Congressional Committee. Whether he is proceeding merely on his own initiative or from a knowledge of changing sentiment in his party it is not important to inquire at present. The probability of such tariff reform as he speaks of may be summed up very briefly. If the protected interests desire tariff reform the Republican party will give them tariff reform; if they do not desire tariff reform nobody else can get tariff reform from the Republican party—Courier-Journal.

Night Was Her Terror.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind. "and could hardly get any sleep. ## L. & N. Stock Above Par.

Louisville and Nashville stock crossed par to-day for the first time since the slump in 1893. At 9:30 o'clock this morning it was quoted at 100 1/4. A large amount of L. & N. stock is held in Louisville the rise is of great importance to local capitalists.

The rise of the stock for the past months has been steady, although without sensational features. A few years ago it was selling in the 30's. From this point it rallied strongly and the day after the recent presidential election, it brought 78 to 79. From that time there has been a constant advance until par was reached and crossed this morning.

The advance is due to the confidence which investors feel in the earning capacity of the road and the surplus which it is known to possess. It is now undoubtedly the strongest railroad system of the South. Its earnings on its stock are equal to those of the Illinois Central and twice those of the Southern Railway, its two competitors.

There is scarcely a Southern city of importance, either from the standpoint of manufacturers or population, to which it has not a branch.

The road has a moderate capitalization, amounting to $32,800,000, and is bonded for about $100,000,000. The road has been earning 10 per cent. on its stock some time, and at the last meeting of its directors, the dividend was increased to the rate of 5 per cent. annually.

The highest price stock has reached in recent years was 110 1/2, in 1881, and in October, 1896, it sold at 88 3/8.

No estimate can be made of the amount of the stock now held in Louisville. Several of the local directors of the road own large blocks of the stock, and there are large numbers of small investors who own from one to ten shares. Those who have had the confidence in the road to hold on to their stock for the past eight years will realize on the present advance—Tuesday's Louisville Times.

Story of a Stolen Ring.

Mrs. Julia Barlow, of Midway, Ky., from whom Miss Edythe Brake, of Louisville school, took a diamond ring valued at $300 and pawned it for $38, as has been published, is a sister of May Collins, the beautiful Kentucky girl, whose sensational death in a Boston hotel four years ago attracted national attention.

Miss Collins went to Boston to perfect herself in the art of elocution, and she met Dr. George Putnam. They became infatuated with one another. He was an apostle of free love and free thought, and he finally talked the young Kentucky girl into his way of thinking. They went to a Boston hotel and a few hours later both of them were found dead in a room together.

All indications pointed to suicide, but her family never could accept this belief. They still think that she was murdered. It was the theory of the police that both shuffled off this mortal coil simultaneously and by mutual consent.

Like her sister Mrs. Barlow came to this city and entered a dramatic school. Her roommate was a Miss Brake, who is a daughter of a novelist and newspaper writer. Miss Brake put on Miss Collins' ring and said she could not get it off again. Miss Collins went home, and when she came back she found that Miss Brake had pawned the ring. Miss Collins married later and her husband is one of the rich young men of Georgetown, Ky.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3 ANNOUNCEMENTS.

FOR COUNTY CLERK.

We are authorized to announce P. T. COOLEY a candidate for the office of County Clerk of Adair County subject to the action of the Democratic party.

FOR JAILER.

We are authorized to announce JAMES H. ADKINS a candidate for Jailer of Adair County, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

The President has asked Mr. P. C. Knox, of Pittsburg, to accept the office of Attorney General. It is said he will take the position.

The State Board of Equalization has notified several counties of its preliminary action on valuations and has set dates for hearing protest.

The impression prevails at Washington that the President will make Funston a Brigadier General in the regular army. Officers who will rank as kicking against the appointment, but it will be made just the same.

James Dudley Ware made an effort to shoot Rev. W. K. Piner at Hopkinsville last Friday. The circumstances which have almost run Ware crazy, bringing about this second trouble, is familiar to our readers. But Ware's action is strange indeed. It indicates he believes his wife guilty, yet he is living with her.

It is said that when Funston was quite a young man he fell in love, courted and was engaged to marry a Spanish girl who was in college in this country. They were to marry as soon as the girl graduated. Commencement day arrived, the young lady received her diploma and left for Spain, without notifying her lover. For this piece of treachery Funston swore vengeance against the Spanish Government, and he has been fighting it ever since.

While Mr. McKinley is racking his brains to try to satisfy the demands of the Republic for patronage, American interests in China are in a fair way to suffer. According to late advices from Peking the other Powers are considering the advisability of quietly pushing the United States out of the Chinese question by ignoring it in future negotiations. If the United States should be pushed out of the Chinese diplomatic door, what would become of the "open door" to American trade in China? Mr. McKinley may find the filling of a few offices a more important question than this, but when he hears from the American people he will discover what a mistake he has made, but unfortunately that discovery will not restore the American trade with China, which is now, in the opinion of those most competent to judge, in jeopardy.

We take the following account of the capture of Aguinaldo from the Courier-Journal: "The achievement of Gen. Funston with his four comrades and seventy-eight natives is far greater than the more capture of the Filipino leader, important as it is. Maj. Gen. MacArthur reports that as a result of conferences now in progress Aguinaldo will issue an address advising a general surrender, the delivery of arms, and the acceptance of American supremacy. Gen. MacArthur gives Gen. Funston full credit for the conception and success of the movement, and recommends that he be made a Brigadier General of the regular army. The details of Funston's expedition form a tale of thrilling interest. The five Americans were carried for five days and nights, ostensibly as prisoners of war, through a country never before visited by American soldiers. They were obedient and subject to the orders of the natives in whom they had placed confidence. So well was it planned that at the proper time, when Funston threw off his mask and took command, his followers obeyed, and the volleys which they sent quickly scattered the enemy and enabled the Americans to capture Aguinaldo."

The decision of the Court of Appeals in reversing the lower court in the case of Powers and Howard, charged with the killing of Wm. Goebel, has been expected, and judging from the tone of the papers, said decision is approved by a large part of the people. Not, however, that the people believe Powers and Howard are innocent, but for the purpose of satisfying those who contend that a fair trial had not been had. The decision giving a new trial is based on technical errors, and there is not a doubt but the Commonwealth will be able to make the case as strong as it was when they were tried before. In the case of Howard and the entire court agreed, but in the powers case it divided, four Republicans against the three Democrats. Now that political excitement has subsided, it is to be hoped that Powers and Howard, together with others, may be tried without the wholesale abuse of the courts that shall have jurisdiction. In our judgment it will be easier to secure their conviction now than it was at their former trial, and when convicted upon unimpeachable evidence the punishment should be administered and the clamor for their pardons end; but we do not expect the Republican organs to acquiesce in their trials, regardless of how they may proceed unless their acquittal is foreshadowed. As in the first, we expect these partisan organs to attempt to impeach every witness that will produce damaging evidence for the slayers of Wm. Goebel, but in the end we hope to see justice administered in such a way as will teach ruling generations that murderous conspirators can not go free in this old Commonwealth.

DECATUR.

The people of this section are getting along extra well in their work, preparing for a crop, much having been broken and fences repaired.

The new mail route from Decatur to Danville will be let on the 30th of March.

With the return of spring the baseball men of Decatur are showing themselves. In connection with Irvin's Store and Font Hill they have recently purchased a new outfit.

James Pelly, of Dunnville who travels for a Lexington grocery house, was here the 27th.

On the 27th, Miss Hester Tarter and Mr. Milton Decatur, were united in marriage at Jamestown by Judge Sharp.

Rev. J. P. Daniel preached at the school-house Saturday night and Sunday following. He is a smart young man and had good crowds. Hops he will carry on his good begun work.

Cy Wade, of Decatur, was kicked by a mule just below the knee and dangerously hurt. His leg was not broken.

Miss Lola Wade, of this place, has been visiting at Yosemite for some time.

S. B. Wade & Co. have been buying from 100 to 200 pounds of chickens per day.

A Testimonial From Old England.
"I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best in the world for bronchitis," says Mr. William Savory, of Warrington, England. "It has saved my wife's life, she having been a martyr to bronchitis for over six years, being most of the time confined to her bed. She is now quite well." It is a great pleasure to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be able to publish testimonials of this character. They show that great good is being done, pain and suffering relieved and valuable lives restored to health and happiness by this remedy. It is for sale by Mr. Craven.
